

About the Author

Mardie Caldwell, C.O.A.P.

Mardie Caldwell, C.O.A.P., is a nationally recognized authority on adoption. A Certified Open Adoption Practitioner, Caldwell is the founder of the nationwide adoption organization Lifetime Adoption Center, LLC., established in 1986. Caldwell has assisted in over 1,800 successful adoptions. She was one of the first adoption professionals on the Internet.

Caldwell's life work has been dedicated to educating and helping birth parents and adoptive parents through teaching, speaking, and resources and as a radio talk show host.

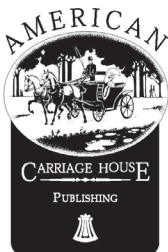

Author of a number of award-winning books, Caldwell has more than 150 media credits to her name, including: Larry King Live, ABC News, NBC's The Today Show, CNN Headline News, CNN's The Campbell Brown Show, CBS News, NBC News, KGO Newstalk Radio, CNN's Black in America II, MSNBC, Fox, PBS, BBC, Dr. Laura, and is widely sought for print articles and speaking engagements.

Caldwell is CEO of Lifetime Adoption Foundation, a 501(c)3 non-profit offering grants and college scholarships to birth mothers, basic necessities, and more.

November is National Adoption Awareness Month and is a fantastic time to talk about adoption. What better way to start the month off, than to interview an authority on adoption. Caldwell is available for television, radio, and print interviews as well as, book signings.

Upcoming Media Events:

- * National Book Tour & Appearances - scheduled stops in New York, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Tucson, Sacramento, San Francisco, Portland, Reno, Las Vegas
- * Radio Interviews - KGO, local stations
- * Available for last minute interviews. Call 530-913-1223 (cell)
- * November is National Adoption Awareness Month

American Carriage House Publishing
P.O. Box 1130
Nevada City, CA 95959
1-866-986-2665
www.AmericanCarriageHousePublishing.com

